This aircraft could be seen in these markings only for a short period between March/April 2011 and July 2011. After that the mission drop markings were removed, but the crew names remained for a further few months. During the operation no crew names appeared on the crew boards.
This aircraft could be seen in these markings from March/April 2011 through to January 2012. After that the pilot and WSO names disappeared and in Summer 2012 the mission drop markings as well. During the operation no crew names appeared on the crew boards.